DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments of record (interview, paper no. 9) have been considered and a new final office action is hereby issued. The time for response is restarted with the mailing of this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 39 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claim 39 is a single means claim, and therefore non-enabling because the "server" does not recite a combination of structural elements in the body of the claim.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3624

5. Claims 3, 47, 67-71 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3, the recitation to "the electronic ticket" lacks antecedent basis.

Claims 47, 67-71 recite a separate class of invention (computer-readable recording medium) or are claiming a product—by-process improperly. These claims are considered improper since they refer back to a different class of invention (method). As an alternative interpretation, if these claims are claiming a product-by-process, these claims are improper for not reciting a further definition of the product and that at the "medium" itself is the product of the process.

Claims 1-19 recite "system" in the preamble, which is vague and indefinite since a system may be one of several different statutory classes of invention (including a method or an apparatus). Applicant must indicate on the record what statutory class of invention the system claims belong to. For the purposes of this examination these claims are considered apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 7. Claims 1-8, 14-19, 21, 23-37, 39-46, 48-53, 68-71, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Williams et al in view of Walker.

Williams et al. discloses an electronic utilization system and method. A terminal outputs a signal for a desired electronic asset (as an instruction or request step). The signal is for instructing transmission of a desired electronic asset. The signal can be for settling a charged bill to a desired electronic asset. A server transmits the desired electronic asset to the terminal or to another predetermined terminal (as an electronic asset transmission step). The server further includes: settlement processing means (and settlement step), issuance means (and issuance step) that issue a certificate, processing means (and certificate transmission step) which transmits the certificate issued by the issuance means to the terminal. The terminal is a portable mobile terminal. The terminal displays the message or content of the certificate. An expiration date is also utilized for the certificate.

With respect to the claimed recitation that the terminal generates a sound, it would be obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include to Williams et al sound generation for user attention purposes.

The term asset is understood to be defined as anything of value.

Williams et al. does not explicitly disclose:

the certificate is an exchange certificate which comprises settlement information and status information.

issuing an electronic asset, wherein the certificate is exchanged for the electronic asset:

requesting booking of a desired electronic asset.

Walker at al. discloses exchange certificate (conditional offer) comprising settlement information and status information, issuing an electronic asset (guaranteed purchase offer), and requesting booking of a desired electronic asset (confirmation).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include booking of a desired electronic asset to Williams et al because Walker et al. and Williams et al teach electronic asset utilization where Walker describes one type of asset.

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include an exchange certificate and issuing an electronic asset, wherein the certificate is exchanged for the electronic asset, all to Williams et al because Williams et al teaches that some assets require intermediary steps for purposes of resale (col 3, lines 7-15) and that verification is required for certain assets (col 3, lines 1-6).

Application/Control Number: 09/505,810 Page 6

Art Unit: 3624

8. Claims 9-13, 22, 32, 38, 47, 54, 72-83 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Williams et al in view of Walker et al as applied to claims 1-8, 14-19, 21, 23-37, 39-46, 48-53, 68-71, and further in view of Hughes.

Williams et al in view of Wlaker et al does not explicitly use the terminology "pastdue date".

Hughes discloses re-transmission of transaction messages (col 9, lines 45-67).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include retransmission after a past-due date to Williams et al in view of Walker et al because Hughes teaches misinterpretation and misunderstandings in transaction information between parties (col 2, lines 1-43).

Conclusion

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 3624

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
